Ryan-

See below and the attached report regarding what we need the engineer to clarify so we can close the City permit. An email acknowledging it would suffice.

Thanks!

We will probably need an email or letter from the engineer accepting the results and the installation. All we can say is we pull-tested the anchors, we can't say we inspected their installation. We couldn't even tell what type were installed, embedment depth, or anything really after the fact other than the size of the all-thread.

Essentially, the final letter will look like this:

Our project files indicate that PSI special inspection activities listed below were conducted as scheduled on August 19, 2020. This letter represents a summary of work observed and reported by a PSI representative and the resolution of any documented noncompliance.

.. Anchor Pull Testing

To the best of our knowledge, the special inspections referenced herein and observed by PSI, Inc., were performed by our firm in general accordance with the requirements of Portland City Code Title 24, approved plans and specifications, provided change orders that impacted plans and/or specifications, and applicable workmanship provisions of the State Building Code and Standards.

Work not scheduled, nor observed by PSI, but referenced on the City of Portland Structural Special Inspection and Observation Program Checksheet, dated July 28, 200, is listed below:

Joe,

I have attached the signed copy.

There are roughly 60 anchors. Our engineer is asking us to test 10%, so 6 total.

Thanks
